

PALM OIL SOURCING POLICY

PREAMBLE

At Peter Greven, sustainability and the responsible use of natural resources have always been a fundamental aspect and are firmly established in their corporate philosophy. Therefore, all products are based on natural, renewable raw materials and the sourcing of sustainable raw materials – especially when it comes to palm oil – is important.

Palm Oil is the world's leading vegetable oil in terms of production volume and consumption and by far the most efficient vegetable oil regarding production volume per hectare. We therefore support the use of sustainably certified palm oil and are committed to our role in moving the palm oil industry towards full sustainability.

This policy complements our Code of Conduct. The policy applies to all palm and palm kernel oil derivatives as the Peter Greven Group does not source any palm (kernel) oil directly.

1. COMMITMENTS

The Peter Greven Group is a member of the Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil ("RSPO") and fully supports the RSPO's vision to transform markets to make sustainable palm oil the norm. Peter Greven is committed to ambitiously increase the uptake of certified material with the ultimate goal to achieve fully certified sourcing of all palm(kernel)-based derivatives. We also work on improving the traceability in our palm oil supply chains, in a first step to the mills and ultimately to plantation level.

The Peter Greven Group recognizes the importance of smallholder inclusion in the palm oil sector. We are therefore committed to support projects that help smallholders to make changes to best practice and to improve access to certification.

The Peter Greven Group sees the need for further progress towards full sustainability in the palm oil sector. We are therefore committed to sourcing palm oil that has been produced without conversion of High Conservation Value ("HCV")¹ areas, High Carbon Stock ("HCS")² land or destruction of peatland and with free, prior and informed consent ("FPIC") of any affected local community where plantation development takes place. In addition we support the add-on criteria of the Forum for Sustainable Palm Oil ("FONAP")³.

All complaints received from customers or other interested parties relating to the palm oil supply chain will be formally recorded and action will be taken accordingly.

3. IMPLEMENTATION

The Peter Greven Group undertakes all appropriate and reasonable efforts to implement and to apply the principles and values described in this Policy in a continuous way and, where necessary, to remedy any existing deficits as soon as possible.

If Peter Greven becomes aware of a supplier violating or breaching these policy commitments, we will take appropriate action to investigate the issue within the framework of our grievance process. We will seek to work with the supplier to resolve it or ultimately, if no adequate resolution can be found, terminate commercial relations with the supplier.

The Peter Greven Group will regularly communicate on the progress relating to sustainable palm oil in the Annual Communication of Progress (“ACOP”), which is published on the RSPO website⁴.
